

Xenios template released

Snek.gr announces the release of the "xenios" template, the second template of the "zeus" series. It keeps the demanding dropline support for horizontal menus. Accordion effects for 4 module positions have been introduced and a single slidding efect for all "right' modules. Two more themes will follow soon under the zeus series having different colors and feautres. You can take a look at the xenios demo and download it , for free.